DEATH OF UNITED STATES SENATOR BENJAMIN RYAN TILLMAN.

Just as he was winding up, in exclaiming that "Colored women deem it a great honor to consort with white men; that all white women would rather suffer death ten thousand times than to cohabit with a Negro; that all Colored men are apes, brutes and baboons; that they have no higher ambition in life than to ravish white women," a white man was arrested who was in the act of hurling a piece of lead pipe at him. Three or four other white men and one Colored man were also arrested for disorderly conduct, and the greatest disorder and excitement prevailed throughout the lecture, and at no time was Orchestra Hall more than half filled, showing that our burning articles against him had done their work, and that those who had thought otherwise were wrong, and the whole affair was a financial failure.

The morning after Senator Tillman had stood up in Orchestra Hall and shouted to h—l with the law and the constitution when it comes down to dealing with "Niggers," the Wisconsin Chautauque Association canceled a forty-eight thousand dollar contract which it had entered into with him for the lecture season of 1907, and various other Chautauque associations throughout the country followed suit, and the Associated Press flashed it to all parts of the world that the editor of this paper started the wonderful onslaught on Senator Tillman which finally ended his career on the lecture platform throughout the United States.

THE NINETEENTH ANNUAL SESSION OF THE NATIONAL NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE WILL BE HELD AT ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., AUGUST 21, 22, 23, 1918.

The nineteenth annual session of the National Negro Business League will be held at Atlantic City, N. J., August 21, 22, 23, 1918, and the program for this year's session will include addresses by a number of the foremost leaders of both races, who will discuss many of the vital and absorbing topics which now confront the race and the nation.

The affiliated organizations of the League, which includes the National Negro Press Association, the National Negro Funeral Directors' Association, the National Negro Insurance Association, the National Negro Retail Merchants' Association, the National Negro Farmers' Association, and the National Negro Bar Association, will hold their annual sessions at the same time as in former years, and there is every indication that the attendance this year will far surpass that of any previous year in the history of the League.

Atlantic City, the World's Playground.

It has been said that the reason why the attendance at conventions and meetings of various sorts held at Atlantic City are so large, it seems that those who are possible delegates and visitors to those conventions are always divided into two classes: Those who have been to Atlantic City and those who have not.

The first group are always glad to return and the second group has heard so much of Atlantic City and its attractions that they are always glad to make the trip. This year the opportunity will be extended to the progressive men and women throughout the country to attend the League, and also to spend two or three days at this world-famed resort.

Some Features of the Session.

The following committees are in charge of the details of the arrangements for entertaining delegates and visitors to the National Negro Business League: Hon. A. F. Davidson, Grand Chancellor, Knights of Pythias, New Jersey, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Local Negro Business League of Atlantic City; Mr. B. G. Fitzgerald, chairman of the Finance Committee; Mr. C. M. Cain, secretary of local league, chairman of Program Committee; Mr. W. Gray, chairman of Publicity Committee, and W. F. Cozart, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, Knights of Pythias, State of New Jersey, chairman of Housing Committee.

Although all of the details have not been completed, the plan of the committee is to have the business sessions at Fitzgerald's Auditorium. Also delegates will be invited to take a ten-mile trip on the ocean on Thursday afternoon, August 22. On the evening of August 22 the famous Ciel Club of New York is planning to give an entertainment on Young's Million-Dollar Pier, and the delegates will have an opportunity to visit the pier on that night.

The three silver cups offered by Mr. Allen W. Clark, chairman of the National "Clean-Up and Paint Up" Bureau, St. Louis, Mo., for the most effective work accomplished during the observance of the National Negro Health Week, will be awarded to the committees of the three cities whose reports to the chairman of the Committee of Awards show the best results.

President J. C. Napier will deliver his annual message to the delegates and Dr. R. R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, chairman of the Executive Committee, will also be one of the principal speakers.

Railroad Rates.

In view of the war conditions and the changes which have transpired in the operation of the railroads, it will not be possible to secure special rates this year, but it may be possible to secure tourist tickets, and these tickets will, of course, afford the visitors and delegates an opportunity to visit a number of other eastern points while they are away from home.

Mr. R. T. Attwell, transportation agent for the Business League, will have an important announcement to make regarding the summer tourist tickets in a later bulletin.

There has never been a time in the history of our race when there was greater need for united action, undivided co-operation, and mutual helpfulness than at present. There are questions of paramount importance which need most careful discussion and attention by the members of the Negro race, and in this trying crisis of the nation's history the race can do no better thing than to meet together in this annual gathering which is planned by the officials of the National Negro Business League and discuss ways and means of co-operating with the Government in the great struggle in which it is engaged.

For further information relative to the meeting of the Business League communications should be sent to Hon. J. C. Napier, Napier Court, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. R. R. Moton, chairman of Executive Committee, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama; or Emmett J. Scott, secretary, Tuskegee Institute, Alabama.

THE FAMILY PURSE AND THE CHILDREN'S FOOD.

American Mothers, Make Every Dollar Count.

By Mrs. Max West.

(This is the ninth of a series of weekly articles on "How Mothers Can Help in Children's Year.")

The family must be fed, whatever foods cost, and the wise mother will study how to get the greatest return on her investment by the careful selection of foods. The cheapest foods are by no means necessarily the most economical. Half-decayed fruits and vegetables are sold very cheap from the wagons or markets, but may be very expensive to the family if illness results, and it is only too true that cheap milk may cost the life of a baby. It is plain that unless food is in good condition it is not cheap at any price. But even when the quality of food is above reproach it must be selected wisely and adapted to the needs of the family. To do this it is a good plan to divide the money that may be spent for food in some way as the following:

(a) "Spend from one-quarter to one-third of the total food money for bread, cereals, macaroni and rice." Bread and other cereal foods form the basis of the American family diet and should be freely used for children.

(b) "Buy at least from one-third to one-half a quart of milk a day for each member of the family." This amount of milk will ordinarily permit each child to have one and one-half pints a day.

(c) "Spend as much for fruit and vegetables together as for milk." Children should begin to have a little vegetable food in the first year, and after the second year well-cooked vegetables should form a usual part of their diet.

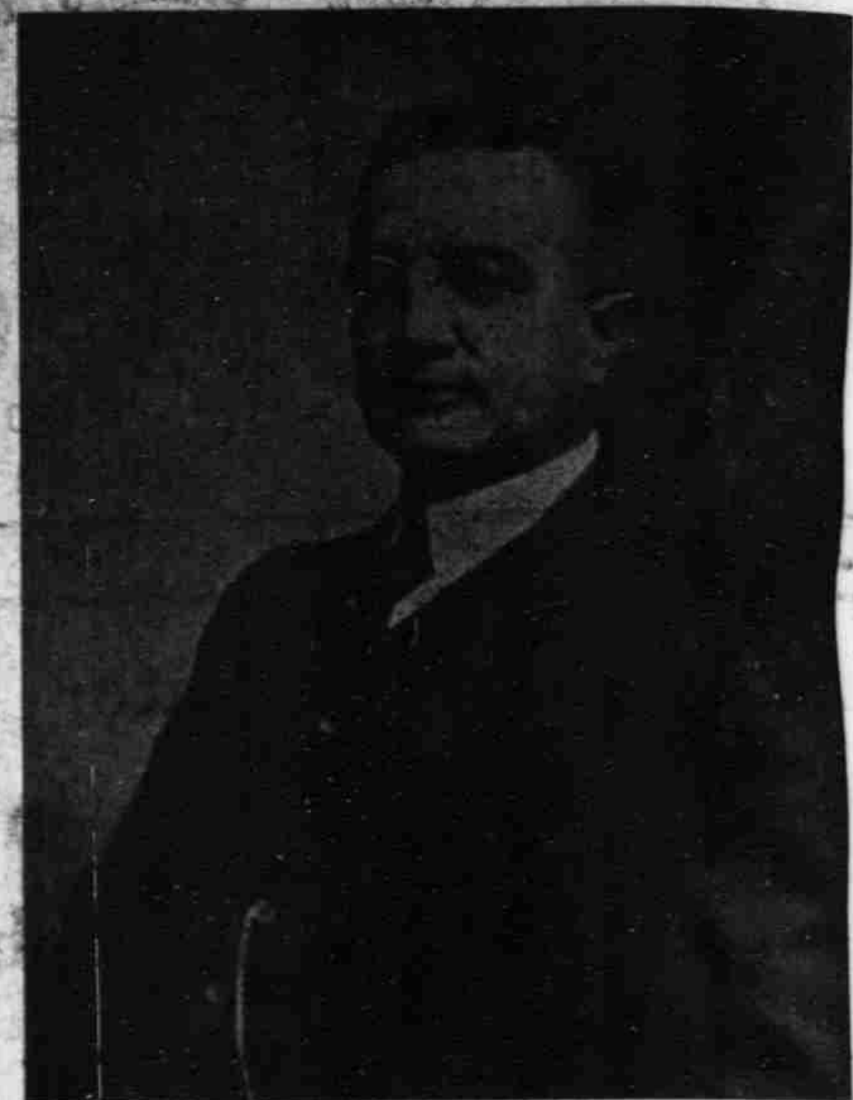

(d) "Spend not more for meat and eggs together than for vegetables and fruit. The amount spent for meat may be decreased as the amount spent for milk increases." It has been found that many families spend an entirely undue amount of their food allowance for meat, which is the most expensive article of food on the market. Especially in summer the proportion of meat in the diet of young children may be reduced by using milk, and milk products, eggs and vegetables in its place. Fish and chicken are excellent food for children.

In order to keep track of these expenditures it is a good plan for the mother to keep an itemized account of her food costs for a while. In the country and villages where the family raises a great deal of its own food the problem of buying will not be so serious, but it is always necessary to see that the proper balance of the family meals is observed.

Having purchased the food stuffs, still further economy can be effected by proper preparation and cooking. A fireless cooker will help greatly in the task of cooking in summer. Most cereals and many vegetables may be re-heated so that at least enough for two days may safely be cooked at one time. Milk may be used in many kinds of good summer foods, such as vegetable soup and custards, or may be the basis of the children's suppers, either with bread or cereals. Directions for the use of milk are given in a forthcoming bulletin of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., on the care of the child, which will be sent to any one who cares to write to the bureau for it.

Food should be kept as cold as possible and carefully screened against flies, mice and other marauders. When there is danger that foods will not keep until the meal for which they are needed, they should be cooked, steamed or sterilized, and then cooked as quickly as possible, even if they must again be warmed before being eaten.

FORMER SLAVE LIES IN STATE, CROWD MOURNS.

Denver, Col.—Special.—From a childhood of slavery in a southern cotton field to genuine honors in death, signalized by the body reposing in state for forty-eight hours while a thousand white persons filed past to pay tribute is a far swing. There is really little that Julia Greeley did not have in the eighty years of her life.

A solemn requiem high mass was sung in Sacred Heart cathedral for the much loved woman. The Rev. Father McDonnell of Sacred Heart was the celebrant, and acting with him as subdeacon was Prof. John Conway, whom the old woman had nursed when he was a baby.

Col. and Mrs. Harry H. Biggs have removed from 3856 S. State street into their lovely new home at 3435 S. Park avenue, where they are now at home to their many friends.

COL. CHARLES C. FITZMORRIS, THE DEMOCRATIC PRIVATE SECRETARY OF MAYOR WILLIAM HALE THOMPSON, IS STILL ON HIS EAR AGAINST JULIUS F. TAYLOR.

Last Tuesday afternoon the writer walked into the city council chamber while it was in session, and while standing around and looking on Col. Charles C. Fitzmorris, the sleek Democratic private secretary to Mayor William Hale Thompson, whom we would not believe under oath if he swore on a stack of real Bibles which would reach down to the lowest pit in the infernal regions and that would extend up to the very highest point in the star spangled heavens, entered the council chamber, and after his big shiny eyes had wildly beheld us for the first time since we had landed on him through the columns of this paper he came near us and exclaimed, "Julius, I have fixed it so that in the future that you continue to enter the city council chamber but you are barred out of all parts of the mayor's office."

Col. Fitzmorris was very politely informed by us that we held a card from the chief of police of the city of Chicago which gives us the right to enter the city council chamber at all of the meetings of that body, that we are not nor never will be as long as we retain our right mind be beholden to him for any favors, not even to the extent of one penny.

If Col. Fitzmorris would only realize to what extent that we abhor and detest him he would in the future absolutely refrain from attempting to talk to us, for we consider him far beneath our notice.

If Mayor William Hale Thompson is defeated in his race for the United States senate he can attribute that fact to Col. Charles Fitzmorris, the Rev. Hon. Archibald James Carey, Ph. D., D. D., and to Edward H. Wright, the boss stud poker player of the city hall, for these three bulldozing political pap suckers who reflect no credit on Mayor Thompson's administration will drive more friends and votes away from him than he can pull to him in the next one hundred years.

OLD BATTLE-TORN FLAG OF 15TH N. Y. NOW AT CAPITAL.

Albany, N. Y.—Special.—The old battle-torn flag of the 15th New York infantry has been sent from France and reposes in a frame at the capitol as an honored relic. It is so tattered and torn that it is only about the size of a large pocket handkerchief.
